

To whom it may concern,

It has been brought to my attention recently that there are proposed bills that could greatly affect the quality of wireless audio systems. Interference based on unauthorized use of "white spaces" and TV broadband for PDA's and the like, could impact the music and television industry in a very negative way. As a professional musician and member/guitarist for the multi Grammy winning group Third Day, I urge you to proceed with caution. Ultimately, I would ask that you would take all measures necessary to protect these frequencies (white spaces), which already are being used by professionals in the television and music industries.

Sincerely,

Brad Avery
